It's over" At 9:48 PM she sent a text that she said she would explain it to me when she came up to my dorm. She asked if I was in my dorm room. I said yes. At 11:03 PM she sent me a text and said "I had to get out that car. I'm walking be by you soon. I need a drink". That was the last text message that I received from [the missing person]. She did not show up to my dorm room. I waited up for [the missing person] till 12:30 AM. I did not try to call her. I thought that maybe she and Jermaine were talking things through.

[the missing person] and they said no. I did not walk over to [the missing person's] dorm. Because of a past incident on campus I'm not allowed in the [] Dorm.

Today Wednesday 04/24/13, I asked one of my roommates, Stephanie, to go see if [the missing person] was in her dorm room. Stephanie went to [] Dorm and called me. Stephanie told me that [the missing person] was not there and [the missing person's] roommates said they hadn't seen her since Saturday morning. I sent a text to the RA at the [] dorm named [student 2] asking if he had seen [the missing person] and he said no. I then went to my Ecology Professor, Professor Ijadi and asked him if he had seen [the missing person]. He said no. The professor asked me if something is wrong. I told him that [the missing person] had been missing for a couple of days. Professor Ijadi said he would speak with me after class. After class I met with the professor. I told him that I had not seen [the missing person] since Saturday. Professor Ijadi said he would try to get the emergency contact phone numbers of [the missing person] to see if she was at home. He then would call campus police.

The last time I saw [the missing person] on Friday night she was wearing a red blazer with a tan shirt, light colored (stonewashed) blue jeans with rips in the jeans. She had on Cheetah print shoes with silver spikes on the front of the shoes. The shoes were flats. She had a flip top phone color black / grey color. She was wearing eyeglasses. She was wearing a doubled chain cross necklace with three (3) crosses on it. One of the crosses has diamond rhinestones. [the missing person] and I bought the same necklace. She normally wears a Pink and grey colored North Face Fleece full zip up jacket. She normally carries a Cheetah print purse. She carries her school ID on a blue colored Lanyard.

I have no idea where [the missing person] could be. She doesn't have any other boyfriends on campus. The only boyfriend she has is Jermaine. The last I knew was that she was breaking up with Jermaine."

6. On 04-24-13 ECSU police contacted the missing person's mother, to inquire if she knew where the missing person was. She did not know and has not spoken with her in days.
7. On 04-24-13 several of the missing person's family members arrived at ECSU police department to assist in locating her. One of the people that arrived at the police department is witness 1, the sister of the missing person. Witness 1 provided a written statement to Officer Snow #300, regarding her interactions with the missing person's boyfriend Jermaine. The statement is as follows:
8. "On 4-24-13, I received a call from my sister [] saying the Eastern Police called her saying they were trying to get a hold of my sister [the missing person]. Me and my fiancée, [witness 2] were calling around trying to get a hold of Jermaine, the guy [the missing person] was dating. We called all numbers we had for him and left messages. At around 5:30pm, [witness 2] received a call from Jermaine. [Witness 2] asked where [the missing person] was, and Jermaine told [witness 2] that he and [the missing person] got into a "verbal disagreement" on Saturday and he dropped her off at the Dairy Queen on Main St. near school because she wanted me to drop her off. Jermaine then said he let her out of the car at the gas station next to the Dairy Queen at about 10:00pm. Jermaine told [witness 2] that after he tried to text her a couple of times and called her but her phone was off. I later spoke with my grandmother, [name withheld] who said Jermaine had called her earlier and told her he dropped [the missing person] off at 6:00pm at Dairy Queen. I later talked with Jermaine and he told me that he dropped [the missing person] off at 10:30 pm near Dairy Queen. I asked him why did you leave my sister there? Jermaine said "what are you saying? Are you really doing this to me?" Jermaine kept saying the same thing until [witness 2] took the phone.

This seemed odd that Jermaine did not call any of my family when [the missing person] was missing. I say this because last summer, [the missing person] lived with me and Jermaine was so possessive that he would call everyone in my family a bunch of times to try and find her. He did this all the time. One time he must have called seventy times. He even sat outside my apartment one time because he thought [the missing person] had gone out to a club.

I also know Jermaine had physical fights with [the missing person] at least three times during their relationship. One of these times was the first day of spring break (I think it was March 22) [the missing person] called me upset saying she had a fight with Jermaine saying that he got her in a head lock and pinned her down on the bed so she couldn't breathe. She said Jermaine finally let her go and she called me. I went to pick her up to get her away from him. She was at a house in Norwalk which was owned by a patient Jermaine services as a visiting nurse. This incident occurred at the client's house and Jermaine could have lost his job. [The missing person] explained she meets him at this client's house and may have met him at other client's houses. When I picked [the missing person] up, she snuck out of the house and we left. I believe Jermaine has a child and has been part of a restraining order but I'm not sure from where. I also recall a conversation with [the missing person] a few weeks back when [the missing person] said Jermaine had told her when they were arguing "I gave up beatin on women" I know Jermaine is extremely controlling and [the missing person] was very effected by that. Last week she was talking about breaking up with him and she was going to cut back on spending time with him.

I last spoke with her over the phone last week (Wednesday or Thursday) when we talked about this.

On Sunday, 4-21-13 I sent a text message to [the missing person] and it had an important message. She did not return the text or call and this is not like her at all.

When I called Jermaine tonight after talking with police, I tried to get him to meet us at Eastern. He said "I don't want to be a part of the pack, you already blame me." Jermaine the claimed he would come up on his own because we told him we would pick him up. He said, I'll go up myself. I kept asking when and he finally said "10:30".

9. On 04-24-13 ECSU Off. Kuchta #367 obtained a written statement from witness 2. Witness 2 is the fiancée of witness 1. Witness 2 stated in a written statement that he was informed by Witness 1 that during this past spring break witness 1 received a call from the missing person during which the missing person had told witness 1 that the missing person had a physical altercation with her boyfriend Jermaine. During the altercation, Jermaine became angry and strangled her. Witness 2 went on to state that concerning the missing person from campus, he had attempted to call Jermaine several times without response. Finally Jermaine answered the phone. Witness 2 asked Jermaine when the last time he had seen or heard from the missing person. Jermaine told witness 2 that he had dropped her off at the Dairy Queen /gas station at about 10:00pm and that he had not heard from her since. Jermaine admitted to witness 2 that they got into a verbal altercation and wanted to get out of his car at the Dairy Queen, which she did. Jermaine told witness 2 that he texted her later that night, but

10. On 04-24-13 ECSU Sgt. Botting #217 obtained a written statement from a juvenile (15 years old) related to the missing person. The juvenile had stated among other things that from what she knows from her experience regarding the relationship between Jermaine and the missing person is that they talk and text each other all the time. The Juvenile stated that if Jermaine does not hear from the missing person, it is common for him to call all the family trying to find her.
11. On 04-24-13 Chief Garewski, ECSU Police Department, assisted in this case by reviewing the surveillance cameras on campus. He was able to locate surveillance footage of [the missing person's dorm] of a black female with a strong resemblance to the missing person Chief Garewski was able to follow the black female as she left the building using other surveillance cameras. Based on the records provided by T-Mobile, the last known location of of the missing person's cellular telephone was in the area of North Peters Lane, in Shelton, CT, on 04-20-13 at 1411hrs. According to Google Maps, that location is approximately 6 miles northeast of the current address of Jermaine Richards of 115 Beardsley Park Terrace, Bridgeport, CT.
15. On 04-24-13 Detective Velazquez and Detective Bavosi interviewed Jermain Richards at ECSU. Richards had arrived at the ECSU police station at the request of family members of the missing person. Richards drove from Bridgeport to Willimantic. Richards arrived with a black female by the name of Tammie. Tammie refused to reveal her last name. Tammie was asked to leave the room so an interview could be conducted with Richards. Tammie refused and threatened to remove Richards if she could not stay. Jermain requested Tammie's presence in the room. Tammie was allowed to stay. Prior to beginning the interview, Richards provided his current address of 115 Beardsley Park Terrace, Bridgeport, CT. He also stated that his cell phone number is (203) 864-7399 and that the service provider is Metro PCS. That several areas fluoresced when sprayed with "Blue Star" reagent which is a presumptive test for the presence of blood. These items were delivered to the Connecticut State Police Forensic Laboratory for further examination and comparison to known samples of DNA from the missing person. the wooded area at the end of Quarry Road in Trumbull CT. This road is a dead end road populated by commercial businesses. While conducting their search human remains were found. The left foot, ankle and lower leg bones up to the knee were found as were the humerus, radial and ulna (upper arm, lower arm) bones. The bones/limbs are within 100 feet of each other and appear to have been subjected to animal activity. At this time the search is ongoing and identification of the bones has not been made as it pertains to race, sex, or age. In the area of the decomposing limbs were several pieces of black plastic bag. At approximately 1830hrs., Dr. H.
